

Follow-up to Esri Licensing Discussion at the EGC's 6/1/2016 Meeting

Information Provided by: Esri (Matthew Deal + Seth Van Aken)

Compiled on: 6/7/2016

Here are the links that offer more detail. The last one is the most detailed with links to further information with some about the advantages of named user vs concurrent/single use.

<http://www.esri.com/products/arcgis-capabilities/identity>

<http://pro.arcgis.com/en/pro-app/get-started/faq.htm#anchor5>

<http://pro.arcgis.com/en/pro-app/get-started/manage-licenses.htm>

I look forward to meeting and will get back to you soon. I will be your main point of contact at ESRI from here on.

All the best-

-Matt Deal, ESRI

I wanted to follow-up with some additional information on ArcGIS Pro configurations that we discussed yesterday. Here's a great site that reviews how to deploy ArcGIS Pro in a named user, concurrent or single use environment. Authorization codes for use in single and concurrent are provided from the my.esri.com customer care portal.

<http://pro.arcgis.com/en/pro-app/get-started/manage-licenses.htm>

We'd like to coordinate an on-site visit to present ArcGIS Pro and review the administrative options and set-up.

We'll get back to you with some prospective dates.

Thanks,

Seth